Care Services ensure that people living with HIV/AIDS have access to the services they need to maintain optimal health and live as independently and safely as possible. Care Services are grouped into three areas: case management, support, and housing services.

Of all the people served last year, 97% were low income, with 55% living below the poverty level. Due to the ongoing economic conditions and the stress of living with limited incomes, the demand remained high for basic support services including housing, food, transportation, emergency rent and utility assistance, as well as essential medical services including dental care and medications assistance.

Once again, SAAF provided services to the greatest number of people in its history, serving 1,177 people living with HIV/AIDS and their household members. Of these, 142 were new clients to SAAF.

Through your support SAAF was able to offer a comprehensive array of services that made a great impact for many people last year.

- 1,177 people received case management and peer counseling services
- 786 people accessed dental services through a contract with Delta Dental
- 502 people received food assistance
- 48 people received assistance with medical costs through ADAP Assist

- 73 people received medications assistance
- 113 households received emergency short-term rent, mortgage, and utility assistance or move-in deposits

Prevention Department creates healthier communities through innovative education, training, and outreach services to reduce the transmission of HIV, Hepatitis, and Sexually Transmitted Infections by using safe and supportive approaches. Prevention services targeted populations at increased risk of HIV infection or transmission, Hepatitis C infection, substance use, and suicide. Communities served included gay/bisexual men and other men who have sex with men (MSM); men and women who inject drugs, have a history of injection drug use, are currently in drug treatment, and/or have a history of incarceration; youth, including young people of color, LGBTQ youth, and adjudicated youth; and people living with HIV/AIDS.

SAAF provided effective behavioral interventions, public health strategies and health education and risk-reduction activities that included outreach, individual-level interventions, group-level interventions, community-level interventions, health education/public information, and social media strategies.

Prevention programs conducted hundreds of outreach and educational events, making over 20,000 contacts; over 150 individual-level interventions were conducted with people living with HIV/AIDS and others at high risk; over 800 individuals accessed syringe services with over 2,900 visits; over 60 group level interventions were conducted reaching close to 1,000 individuals; and approximately 225,000 condoms and other safer-sex materials were distributed in Tucson.

HIV Counseling and Testing was provided by 20 trained SAAF staff. Testing was available at SAAF, behavioral health agencies, local bars, and at community events throughout the year. Confidential HIV testing using an HIV Rapid Test was available. Last year approximately 1,639 people received HIV rapid testing services at SAAF, Behavioral Health Agencies in Gila and Pinal counties, community locations including three Walgreen’s locations, and at mobile-testing events. Hepatitis C rapid testing was also made available to people who inject drugs or have a history of injection drug use. Over 646 Hep C rapid tests were conducted at SAAF and in collaboration with behavioral health organizations in Tucson.

Doug was diagnosed with HIV and AIDS in 2000 and became a SAAF client in 2004. Doug was an injection drug user and a member of a motorcycle club. By 2007, Doug decided to make several life changes. He stopped using drugs and got clean and sober. Doug entered SAAF’s housing in 2008. By March 2009, he tested positive for Hepatitis C which began a long struggle to recover his health.

His doctor and SAAF case manager enrolled him in SAAF’s Food for Life program in June 2009 when he was no longer able to leave his apartment to shop or prepare his own meals. Doug received Interferon treatments from May 2010 through May 2011. He became very ill and suffered with debilitating side effects including nausea, vomiting, fever, liver complications and weight loss. Even after he completed treatment, Doug had complications from cirrhosis of the liver and his doctor said he needed a liver transplant. Over the course of the next couple of years, and through his treatment, Doug was able to count on SAAF’s Food for Life program to help maintain his physical health. The Food for Life program provided Doug with home delivered meals and a microwave in which to cook them. The volunteers that distribute these meals are also able to provide a welfare visit upon delivery. This is often comforting to clients to know that they will consistently see a familiar face.

In August of 2011, Doug was enrolled in SAAF’s Complementary Therapies program. He greatly benefited from the nutritional supplements provided through the Travis Wright Memorial Buyers’ Club and body work prescribed by his Naturopathic Physician. Doug found acupuncture to be especially helpful and has continuously received this care even when his health was at his worst.

At his sickest, when Doug was experiencing extreme weight loss and wasting and was having difficulties eating, he received Ensure, a liquid dietary supplement, from SAAF’s food pantry.

Doug found a sense of community with other residents in SAAF’s housing which helps him feel less alone. In November 2013, Doug welcomed a Therapeutic Companion animal into his life. He was able to receive support for his dog from the Pawsitive Friends Pet Assistance Program at SAAF. When Doug became so ill he was no longer able to care for his puppy, Chubbs, a neighbor took the puppy for him.
During his illness Doug faced financial struggles as he was unable to work. SAAF’s Share Bear fund has helped Doug pay for car and motorcycle repairs. When Doug became too fragile to ride his motorcycle and later to drive his truck, SAAF provided him with a monthly bus pass. SAAF’s Statewide Dental Service’s Program has been able to assist him with covering the cost of dental needs. He also received help with health insurance.

In the summer of 2014, Doug began making an unexpected recovery. When he sat down for annual reassessment, his SAAF case manager reported that color was returning to Doug’s face and that he seemed less ill than in previous visits. He recently started riding his motorcycle again and he even gets to visit his neighbors and take Chubbs for walks. Doug is very grateful to SAAF for all the support they have provided him.

Frida* took the Reaching Adolescents Prevention Project (RAPP) class last year when she was a junior at Pueblo High School. At first, she often spoke loudly and out of turn during the classes and engaged other students in conversations getting them off task, as well. As the RAPP co-facilitators got to know Frida, they learned that she ran with a crowd that used and sold drugs. Through the RAPP activities, they also learned about Frida’s passion for sports. Sure, sometimes she held drugs for other people, but Frida denied using them herself because she didn’t want anything interfering with participation on the volleyball and softball teams. As she attended the RAPP classes and worked through the Say It Straight (SIS) curriculum, Frida became more aware of her disruptive behavior. She found better ways to express herself and became a leader in class. When she did talk out of turn, she was willing to admit “You’re right. I need to be more respectful.”

Now a senior, Frida enrolled in the RAPP classes that were now being offered at Tucson High School. Frida had changed as a person as well as changing schools. She retained her outspokenness and her outstanding leadership skills which she harnessed to recruit eight other students to take the RAPP class, too. Her attendance was perfect. She didn’t miss a single class. Frida is on track to graduate next spring.

SAAF’s Mission

To create and sustain a healthier community through a compassionate, comprehensive response to HIV/AIDS.
Your gift today to SAAF’s Food Program will help someone tomorrow!

March is Write A Will Month

By Ethan Smith Cox, Director of Development

More than half of all adult Americans do not currently have a will.
If you do not have a will at the time of death, the State will make determinations about how your estate is divided up. In Arizona, if you are part of an unmarried, same-sex couple, your surviving partner will receive nothing from your estate without a will.

Take control of your future by attending the SAAF/TIHAN (Tucson Interfaith HIV/AIDS Network) Write A Will workshop. This workshop is free and will offer great insight into what it takes to secure your future and the future of your loved ones.

Write A Will Workshop Date

Tuesday March 17, 2015
10:00am-12:00pm
Community Foundation for Southern Arizona
2250 East Broadway Blvd.

RSVP to Fred Rodriguez, SAAF Development Associate, at (520) 547-6099 or frodriguez@saaf.org by March 12, 2015
